Being a CEO

'Being a CEO,' a leadership talk series offers a unique platform for the PGPEX students to interact with and learn from industry leaders. The objective of this series is to facilitate interaction of the students with top executives who have managed large organizations and have a plethora of experiences to share on leadership, people management, policies and regulations, and numerous other real issues they deal with on a regular basis. Another key objective of these sessions is to understand executive decision making under different business contexts.

During the past few years, the PGPEX students have had the privilege of hosting CEO level speakers from Banking, Finance, Defence, Retail, Automotive, and IT industries to name a few. One of the greatest benefits students derive from such interactions is to understand more clearly what they study in the classroom and connect them with the ground realities. In today's increasingly complex business world, it is imperative that business school students understand the importance of ethical practices and standards. This platform gives a great opportunity to hear first-hand experiences from top CEOs on how to run businesses ethically. Getting a flavor of the business complexities through such interactions helps students in figuring out the challenges that await them in future and equip them with a holistic understanding of how to tackle such challenges.

Immersion Module

Participants will be required to undertake a study tour to one or two foreign countries for a period of 2 weeks. This will be facilitated by the Institute.

PGPEX students of the seventh batch went to Mannheim Business School, Germany and Ashridge Business School, United Kingdom in 2 groups for their immersion. The International Immersion module at Mannheim Business School, Germany was designed to provide a high-level view of the economic, cultural and geo-political drivers behind countries integral to the Eurozone economy. The students got insights into the European Economic & Monetary Integration, Marketing Strategy and Management in European Markets and International Management with German perspective.

With a curriculum that ranged from global leadership to leading responsibly during turbulent times to handling change, the Asridge module covered various aspects of contextual leadership. The message was delivered using class-room sessions, experiential learning, peer interactions and case studies amid the lush beautiful 180 acre country estate in Hertfordshire and the PGPEX students over the two week period looked at leadership through a variety of lenses while learning about tools that help leaders turn strategy into action.

Beyond Academia

Located in the lush green Gangetic Plains of India's 'sea and snow' state West Bengal, IIMC is part of a great intellectual tradition. The City of Kolkata was India's first industrial city and has a thriving cosmopolitan environment, which draws intellectuals and workers from all over the country. The state has many distinguished universities including India's first modern university. It boasts of several international institutions like the IIT, ISI, IACS, IICB and the Asiatic Society. The city of Kolkata has produced more Noble Laureates than the rest of the Indian states combined together.

The Institute is located on a 135-acre campus at Joka on the southern outskirts of Kolkata. Surrounded by lakes and tall trees, the campus is a natural sanctuary of a variety of native and migrant birds. The B. C. Roy Memorial Library at the Institute is one of the largest management libraries in Asia with over 1,20,000 titles and 2,000 electronic journals and databases. The Institute is well equipped in terms of computer and internet facilities. The Campus has a large auditorium, a school, a bank and a post office.

Campus life involves various extracurricular activities with several clubs and societies emphasizing skills and activities beyond classrooms. Participants can join the Finance Club or the Dramatic Cell or be entertained by music from BaroC, IIMC's own music group. One can also jog through the shady tracks, take a cool dip in the sparkling waters of the new swimming pool or have an exhaustive work-out in the new gymnasium.

The PGPEX students get opportunities to hone and test their skills and talents beyond academics too. Be it sports, or any B-school case competition, PGPEX students have regularly participated in such extracurricular events and have made their presence felt both within IIMC and to the outside world. Many students join various clubs and organizing committees as members while others take part in activities and competitions organized by them. PGPEX students have not limited themselves to just participation but have emerged as winners on numerous occasions including winning case competition organized by Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) and Operations Club at IIMC.

PGPEX students have not only excelled in club activities and competitions but have also been outstanding on sports front. IIMC PGPEX volleyball team was the winner at XLerate, 1-year MBA sports meet at XLRI, and also won silver medals in other sports including tennis and badminton. PGPEX students participate in highly competitive and entertaining IIMC Cricket Premier League every year and have also been part of IIMC cricket team.

LATTICE

Lattice is the Annual Business Symposium organized by the PGPEX students of IIM Calcutta. This is a platform that facilitates interaction between transformational leaders of Indian society and IIM Calcutta students. The business symposium aims to propagate the implementation of new ideas and thinking in the corporate world and the society.

Lattice is evolving as an important symposium for policy-makers, academics and business leaders to gather and exchange ideas about India, one of the fastest growing economies of the world. The symposium strives to provide meaningful coverage on current trends, opportunities and challenges faced by students.

The two day event is usually graced by the presence of eminent speakers from diverse industries and it also has exciting events such as Business Quiz, Panel Discussion and Alumni meets.
