DISCOVERERS WELCOME

Have you been thinking about ways of broadening or strengthening your employment possibilities?

Having a postgraduate qualification in Business can often provide you with the edge needed to make it through to the upper echelons of industry. The Master of Business Administration provides a comprehensive exposure to the key analytical tools required to make sound business decisions and build a successful career in general management.

Take your passion to a new level with postgrad study at Murdoch

Postgrad study is all about developing your passion further, a one-degree-fits-all approach just simply doesn't work for everybody. We're flexible about what and how you choose to study - and we employ great academic thinkers who care about helping you along your new path.

Become an expert in your field

If you're aiming to work in a senior management role, an MBA will help you gain the professional and personal skills you need to succeed. You'll have the opportunity to study overseas or complete a workplace research project to create practical solutions for the company you already work for.

The skills you'll learn in project management, risk management, entrepreneurship and innovation, leadership and strategic management skills can be applied to whatever industry you're passionate about.

Flexible study modes to fit study into your lifestyle

You can complete your MBA degree at Murdoch in 12, 16 or 24 months by studying full time or part time, depending on your individual circumstances. Our MBA classes are conveniently held in the evening and during weekends to provide flexibility to working professionals.

Employment Prospects

An MBA degree can benefit those in positions in business and management, especially those in executive and managerial positions. Furthermore, the alliances that you form with your classmates and the network that you create is deemed as one of the most important and valuable things that an MBA program can give you. MBA graduates have often felt that the associations formed during the MBA course are resources that are invaluable and can be drawn upon for years after the MBA degree has been achieved. Close to 100 per cent of Murdoch MBA graduates find new employment, set off to better careers and those staying within their organisation are often fast tracked to higher positions. The private sector dominates, and the public sector accounts for around 18 per cent of graduates.
