BACKGROUND AND LEGACY OF THE MAHARAJA SAYAJIRAO UNIVERSITY OF BARODA

The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda is recognized as one of the premier institutions of higher learning and research in the country. Since its inception in 1949, the University has demonstrated a keen interest and a commitment to the sustenance and promotion of an environment, favourable to the growth and development of academic excellence – a commitment that forms a part of the rich legacy of the institution.

Educational institutions which preceded the Maharaja Sayajirao University and which went on to forming a part of its foundational legacy, included the “Baroda College”, one of the oldest centers of learning in Western India, founded in 1881 by His Highness Maharaja Sayajirao Gaekwad III. The enlightened ruler in 1909 established the “Kala Bhavan”, which consisted of seven schools: (1) School of Art, (2) School of Architecture, (3) School of Mechanical Technology, (4) School of Chemical Technology, (5) School of Pedagogy, (6) School of Agriculture, and (7) Practical School.

In an attempt to further promote educational endeavor and evolve a University atmosphere in Baroda, the First Commission was appointed in 1909 by the Government of Baroda. The major recommendation of the Commission was to expand the activities of the Baroda College by establishing additional chairs in new branches of knowledge. Thus, Chairs of Comparative Religion and Household Science were instituted, thereby carving out untrodden paths in higher education. The question of establishing a University at Baroda engaged the attention of the Government of the State of Baroda and its educational advisors much before the establishment of regional Universities and the need for decentralization, recognition and reconditioning of higher education had taken roots in the country. As a result, the Baroda University Commission was appointed in 1926, which submitted a comprehensive report, strongly recommending an immediate establishment of a University at Baroda. Several institutions for higher education were added during the two decades that followed. First and the foremost was the Sayaji Jubilee Institute of Science, established in 1933, to commemorate the Golden Jubilee Celebrations of the coronation of Sir Sayajirao Gaekwad III. The other institutions added were the Secondary Teachers’ Training College (1935), Pratapsinh College of Commerce and Economics (1942), Oriental Institute, Sanskrit Mahavidyalay, College of Indian Music, Department of Archaeology, the Museum and the Picture Gallery.

His Highness Maharaja Pratapsinhrao Gaekwad pursued the idea of establishing a University and appointed a committee in 1947. On the recommendation of the committee, the Government of Baroda, in its order No.(R) 169-39 dated 21st February 1949, decided to establish a Residential University at Baroda. The bill for establishment of the University was passed by the Legislative Assembly and received the assent of His Highness Maharaja Pratapsinhrao Gaekwad on April 29, 1949 & the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda came into existence on April 30, 1949.
