

The National Law Institute University, Bhopal

PLACEMENT BROCHURE BATCH OF 2019

Message from the Registrar

Greetings from NLIU Bhopal!

Since its establishment in 1997, the National Law Institute University (NLIU) has earned a reputation for educational excellence, academic rigor, and the highest standards of professionalism.

The students of this prestigious University have earned a name in national and international events and the alumni have made a mark for themselves in various disciplines.

The Batch of 2019, the seventeenth batch of the University, has showcased exceptional versatility and embodies the values that NLIU seeks to inculcate. They have been forerunners in their academic and co-curricular endeavours and, with their dexterity, knowledge, zeal, and spirit of inquiry, will be indispensable assets to any organisation.

I extend a very hearty welcome to all recruiters and hope that you have a productive and pleasant experience here at NLIU!

Ms. Giribala Singh

About NLIU

Located in the heart of India, amidst the picturesque hills of the Vindhyas, the National Law Institute University was established in 1997 by a legislation of the Madhya Pradesh state legislature. The second National Law University to be established in the country, it offers its students an unparalleled platform to develop themselves. The patron of the University is the Honourable Chief Justice of India. It works closely with the High Court of Madhya Pradesh as well as the National Judicial Academy.

The University boasts of a veritable mix of students from across the country and promotes academics as well as extra-curricular activities, ensuring that the students remain active and are exposed to various activities pertaining to law, literature, and sports.

CAMPUS

The University provides access to state-of-the-art academic and research infrastructure; enabling the students to pursue their varied interests. The crown jewel in the university campus remains the aptly named Gyan Mandir, which houses a rich library, a computer centre, and video conferencing rooms. The library houses, for daily use and delectation, a rich collection of online sources, law reports, and legal texts, along with equally rich collection of literature on law and social sciences. NLIU is also home to the Rajiv Gandhi National Cyber Law Centre, established by the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India. Most recently, the campus has also added a new auditorium and convention centre, dedicated for moot court activities, lectures, conferences, etc.

Message from the Faculty Coordinator

I am pleased to introduce the Batch of 2019, which is a composite bunch of versatile and bright students. They are prolific writers and have written extensively on wide ranging issues from robot crimes to cyber attacks and IPR related issues in antitrust law to corporate insolvency.

They are a perfect synthesis of theoretical and practical knowledge which they have proved in various accolades they have brought to the university by winning different national and international competitions. They are an excellent example of commitment, dedication and innovation.

They have effectively combined classroom teaching with the fulfillment of social responsibility and shown unique leadership qualities. They are competitive yet cooperative. I am certain that their varied talents would be an asset to any organisation they join.

I wish them all the best for their bright and successful future.

COURSES

With a total student intake of 120 students per year, NLIU hosts over 600 students enrolled in its graduate and undergraduate programs. The five year integrated B.A. LL.B. (Hons.) program and the one year LL.M. program accept students through the intensive Common Law Admission Test (CLAT). The University also has a two-year post-graduate course of Master of Science in Cyber Law and Information Security (MSCLIS) as well as a Ph.D. program.

ACADEMIC STRUCTURE AND PEDAGOGY

NLIU follows the intensive trimester system for its B.A. LL.B. (Hons.) program, wherein each year is divided into three trimesters of about 70 working days each. In each trimester, a student has to undergo written examinations in each paper, project work (written and presentation) in one paper, as well as a viva-voce examination. Thus, throughout 15 trimesters, every student undergoes a rigorous schedule of 5250 Compulsory Credit Hours, 750 Compulsory Clinical Hours, 75 Written Examinations, 360 days of Work Experience, 15 Compulsory Research Papers, 7 Compulsory Seminar Papers, and 30 Compulsory Oral Presentations.

The teaching method is based on class room lectures, power point presentations, and field studies. The holistic teaching methodology ensures that each student is trained to tackle all facets of any legal problem thus contributing to the training of a socially conscious professional. Each faculty member prepares extensive study material, which is revised and updated regularly to support the class lectures and to facilitate a deeper understanding of each subject. Over the trimesters, students are taught at least four core courses and two skill courses like Legal Writing, Accountancy, Clinical Legal Education, etc. In the final three trimesters, along with compulsory subjects, students can choose two optional papers of their choice.

EXCHANGE PROGRAMS & MOUs

- The University of Lucerne, Switzerland accepts two students every year for a student exchange program.
- The Centre for Advanced Study and Research on Intellectual Property (CASRIP) of the University of Washington, Seattle, USA offers scholarships to two students every year to attend their summer workshop on Intellectual Property Law.
- MoU with Georgia State University, USA for exchange of students & teachers.
- MoU with the Institute of Air & Space Law, Faculty of Law, McGill University, Canada.
- MoU with Leiden University, Netherlands.
- MoU with INADR, Chicago, for organizing an International Mediation Competition in the University on a yearly basis.

Difference at NLIU

NLIU aims at producing legal professionals adequately equipped with the broad visionary and evolutionary qualities necessary to deal with the professional requirements of today. The NLIU lawyer is clinically trained to be flexible and can cast himself/herself in any mould.

The University has an active and buzzing student life, with the students playing an integral part in organising various events and managing students' activities through several cells in the University. All activities at the University are aimed at achieving holistic legal education with practical training.

LITIGATION AND ADR

The practical aspect to litigation far exceeds the theoretical aspect. With an objective to bridge this divide, the Moot Court Association (MCA) not only organizes moot court activity, but also solicits participation of students in client-counselling, examination and cross-examination of witnesses through mock-trials. Students are, thus, trained in every stage of advocacy.

At NLIU, advocacy has not been cast in the conventional mould, emphasis is also laid upon arbitration, mediation and negotiation. The Alternative Dispute Resolution Cell (ADRC) at NLIU is the oldest ADR cell in India (estd. 2007). ADRC exposes students to top-notch training in mediation and negotiation and hosts the largest mediation competition in the country.

The University's curriculum supplements the aforesaid objective with a Clinical Legal Course spanning three trimesters, training students in counselling, professional ethics and drafting.

CORPORATE LAW

With the emergence of 'The Indian Multinational' the corporate legal structure has attained a truly distinct and contextual character. In these times a need has arisen for in-depth knowledge of market trends, international financial transactions and niche business practices. NLIU has pragmatically incorporated these thrust areas in its syllabi, including courses on Legal Writing and Accountancy.

The corporate curriculum is supplemented by a gamut of activities in the University conducted by the Centre for Business and Commercial Laws (CBCL), a UGC-accredited body in the University which focuses on research and discussion among students in the field of corporate law and other allied subjects. The CBCL team has organized a number of events in association with leading law firms, publishing houses, and research institutions. This year, the Centre has started the CBCL Blog to encourage students and practitioners to write on issues concerning the areas of corporate law, securities law, banking law, arbitration law and competition law.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Intellectual Property is one of the finest departments at NLIU. Students have gained from vastly experienced faculty having international work exposure. The faculty in conjunction with students has played a seminal role in contributing to reformation of the national IPR regime.

The Centre for Studies in Intellectual Property Rights (CSIPR) at NLIU has been spearheading organization of activities with a vision to promote the culture of knowledge creation in India. Pursuant to its mission of promoting research and sharing of ideas in the field of Intellectual Property Laws, the 38 member CSIPR has organized conferences and workshops on various themes in the field of intellectual property law in collaboration with the Ministry of Human Resource Development and the Ministry of Industry and Commerce, Government of India.

The University offers a unique opportunity to two students on fellowship, each year to attend the prestigious IP Summer School at Centre for Advanced Studies and Research in Intellectual Property (CASRIP) for three weeks at the University of Washington. Seattle USA.

INTERNATIONAL LAW

The University, right from its inception, has believed that while focus upon municipal laws must be maintained, it must be done in the light of international law, thus, rendering a poignant analysis of issues of national importance, an international perspective. Further, the University curriculum on International Law gives the students a broad perspective in not only public international law, but also political science, international relations and private international law.

The Cell for Research in International Law (CRIL) is an academic association of students affiliated to the International Law Students Association, aimed at promoting interest and research in the field of international law. To facilitate the understanding of the role of the United Nations in international law, the cell organizes an annual Mock United Nations competition where issues addressed by organizations such as Security Council, WTO, OECD and ILO on electronic commerce, labour standards, international trade & taxation and restructuring in post conflict situations have been discussed.

ARTS, CULTURE AND SPORTS

Jus Cultura (JC), the Literary, Debating and Quizzing Society of NLIU, aims to harness and nurture the creative acumen of the students. The Literary Society conducts foreign language classes for Spanish and German, and holds various activities like Spell Bees, Book Readings, and Poetry Slams Book Club. The Debating Society organizes weekly practice debates on issues of contemporary relevance. The Quizzing Society organises 'Wednesday Quizzes' to keep the students intellectually engaged.

Athena, the cultural society, provides a platform to the student community to nurture and showcase their talents in the fields of dramatics, music, art and photography. The society actively conducts street plays and movie screenings.

Sports Committee conducts and encourages sporting activities throughout college and organises extramural and intramural tournaments in the university. It also ensures providing leisure time activities in college including zip- lining, archery, paintball, tug of war, to foster greater participation of the student community in sports.

PRO BONO PUBLICO!

NLIU has undertaken several projects that have won acclaim for community service in the State of Madhya Pradesh. The student body has been doing its part through PULER (People United for Law Education and Rehabilitation), a social welfare group that helps in providing primary and secondary education to children of nearby villages of Mindori, Mindora and Kerwa. The group has successfully worked towards spreading awareness about various legal issues and empowering students through education.

Since its inception, NLIU has stressed on and worked towards a clean and sustainable environment. The Cell for Awareness and Research in Environmental Law Studies (CARES) is a core cell of the University, and it aims to spread awareness among the masses so as to sensitize them about the environment through seminars, cleanliness drives, and street plays.

NLIU has also been at the forefront in ensuring gender equality and promoting discourse of gender justice. With this object, the Gender Justice Cell (GJC) was established in 2011 and it continues to raise concerns against acts of injustice and discrimination perpetuated on grounds of sex and addresses the causes and consequences of gender inequality, both nationally and locally. The GJC, via different platforms, is very vocal on issues related to LGBT rights, human trafficking and sexism in the media. The 20-member cell vouches for an egalitarian society where members of all sexes are treated fairly and equally.

STUDENT INITIATIVES

NLIU Law Review is a student run academic journal of the University. It publishes material on subjects of interest to the legal profession and academia, authored by practitioners, legal experts and students. With its enthusiastic editorial board comprising nearly 60 editors across all batches, the Law Review has successfully published 12 issues till date and is currently working towards making legal writing more inclusive and accessible to law school students.

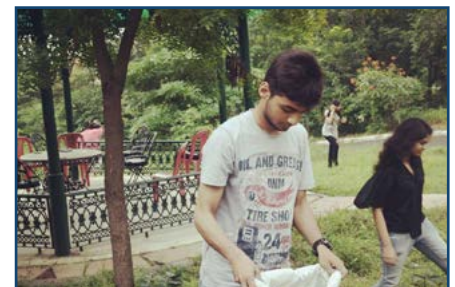

Manthan, established in 2013, works with the vision to foster an ethos of awareness and consciousness about the affairs impacting the nation and the world at large. Comprising 12 members, the cell holds discussions and deliberations on some of the crucial events and ideologies affecting the world. The discussions are interdisciplinary which help the students to enhance their knowledge and develop holistically into socially aware and responsible citizens.

The Batch of 2019

Determination, diligence, and proficiency - these are the unwavering ideals the Batch of 2019 exemplifies. These talented men and women from across the country have honed their skills in their relentless pursuit of knowledge to fulfill their ambitions, bringing home great laurels, and greater glory.

However, it is not just the stellar performances in numerous moot court competitions, mediation tournaments, quizzes, parliamentary debates, and paper presentations that define these illustrious students - it is their passion for law, their unfaltering drive for perfection, and their zeal to succeed.

With a versatility that outshines in every walk of life, the students of the NLIU have refined their leadership potential as well as their effective teamwork capabilities. They have played a proactive role in organising and initiating co-curricular and extra-curricular activities within the University, and now stand ready to shoulder the responsibilities of their professional lives.

Armed with unmatched calibre, as well as the virtues that come from quality education and meritorious internship experiences, NLIU's soon-to-be graduates are the future that will take the legal profession by storm.

Placement Coordination Committee

The Placement Coordination Committee (PCC) is designated with the responsibility of facilitating the procedure of recruitment at NLIU. PCC provides a transparent, credible, and accountable interface between prospective employers and graduating students. The representatives for each batch are democratically elected by the batch concerned and work under the able guidance of the Faculty Coordinator, Dr. Raka Arya.

What started as a modest student enterprise has today become an integral part of the education system adopted by NLIU. The PCC organizes a number of personality development and awareness programs as a part of the learning process for the students.

The Committee is engaged in coordinating internships and placements, for which it seeks to instil functional knowledge and specific skills amongst the students by:

1. Organising workshops and seminars conducted by various luminaries on:
 - Placement-related subjects and topics
 - Resume Writing
 - Judicial Services & Civil Services
2. Organising regular career counselling, mock interviews and group discussion programmes for the graduating batch.
3. Providing regular counselling and personalized career guidance to the students.
4. Maintaining a catalogue of recent developments in the field of law to generate awareness amongst students.

We don't just coordinate placements, we coordinate careers.

Placement Process at NLIU

According to the placement rules at NLIU, prospective employers can recruit via pre placement offers or the campus placement process.

PRE-PLACEMENT OFFER (PPO)

Prospective employers are requested to intimate the PCC of selection or shortlisting of any student of the Batch of 2019 for a PPO at the earliest at placementcommittee.nliu@gmail.com.

The University shall begin the campus placement process in the month of April 2018. The placement process continues till the end of the academic year of students in their fifth year, i.e., till April 2019.

DAY ZERO PROCESS

The PCC ensures optimal flexibility to all prospective recruiters. For Day Zero recruitments, the following broad steps may be followed by recruiters (the steps are not mandatory or exhaustive) -

1.

Recruiters may conduct Pre Placement Talks (PPT) highlighting the profile of the organization, career prospects, compensation packages, et al. These PPTs can be conducted at any time before the Pre Interview Screening.

2.

Recruiters may conduct a Pre-Interview Screening Process, including group discussions, at any time before the final interview. The Curricula Vitae of all interested students shall be forwarded to the recruiter, and the recruiters are free to determine their own policy for the Screening Process to shortlist students.

3.

The recruiter shall formulate a Final Interview list subsequent to the completion of the Pre-Interview Screening Process or otherwise and the same must be communicated to the PCC along with a waitlist of students. All interviews being conducted on the same day may be conducted in different time slots.

4.

All results shall be declared simultaneously by the PCC at the end of Day Zero to ensure that no recruiter is prejudiced. The recruiters will be required to disclose the results of their Final Interviews and any Offer made to applicant(s) only through the PCC. The recruiters are requested to disclose a Waitlist along with the final offers. In the event of overlapping offers, the waitlisted candidates will become eligible for the final offers.

ROLLING PLACEMENTS

The on-campus Placement Process continues after the Day Zero, throughout the year. It can be divided into Pre Placement Session and the Recruitment Day.

Pre-Placement Talk (PPT)

The recruiters have the option of engaging the students in an interactive session, either on-campus or through video-conferencing, highlighting the salient features of the organisation, the job profile being offered, remuneration, terms and conditions of employment and other relevant information as the recruiter thinks fit. They may also conduct lectures on niche areas of law. The recruiters are urged to indicate their preferred dates for such talks to the PCC, either by e-mail or telephonic communication, at least a week in advance.

Recruitment Day

Recruiters are welcome to follow their own recruitment process, broadly within the framework of group discussions, written tests, and personal interviews. The PCC sits as an impartial judge to oversee that the processes are being carried out with utmost fairness that is the hallmark of this University and to ensure that the Recruiters are facilitated at every step in their assessment processes. Recruiters can also opt for Telephonic Interviews and interviews via Video Conferencing. The recruiters are requested to intimate the PCC with their preferred dates in the final placement schedule at the earliest.

PLACEMENT RULES

- If a member of the Placement Process receives an offer of employment independent of the PCC and accepts it, he/she will be barred from any further participation in the Placement Process.
- If a member of the Placement Process receives an offer of employment, it would be deemed to be an acceptance of the offer by the member. Thereafter, that member is barred from any further participation in the Placement Process.
- With more than one employer recruiting from the campus on the same day, the results will be declared after all the interviews for the day are over and if a candidate is selected by more than one organization, the choice of selection lies with the candidate. Thereafter, the candidate is barred from any further participation in the Placement Process. In such a scenario, the prospective employers are urged to provide a waiting list of candidates.
- Decision of the Faculty Coordinator (PCC) regarding any dispute arising during the course of the entire Placement Process will be taken keeping in mind the larger interest of the students and will be final and binding upon all interested parties.
